As at 31 December 2016, the Bank had a portfolio of retail CHF mortgage loans of PLN 1.3 billion (CHF 308.4 million). The Bank Management Board is of the opinion that the said portfolio bears an increased CHF-associated credit risk which will materialise if the PLN/CHF exchange rate materially decelerates or the PLN/CHF exchange rate deceleration sustains. The Management Board believes that the continuing CHF/PLN exchange rate can adversely impact the borrowers' capacity to pay their liabilities. The historical data/parameters for the portfolio in question do not mirror sufficiently the CHF-associated credit risk which can materialise in future cash flows in the loss identification period.

The Bank analysed the portfolio focusing on key risk parameters which are most affected by FX rate changes; that is LTV and DTI and resolved in keeping with IAS 39.62 to adjust the (PD) risk parameter used for calculation of the provisions for incurred but not reported losses for the portion of the portfolio with an increased risk profile by PLN 31.8 million vis-a-vis the provisions stemming from the historical liability repayment data-based model.

Starting from January 2016, the Bank's calculation of own funds has included 60% of unrealised profits and 100% of unrealised losses from the valuation of available-for-sale financial assets presented in the revaluation reserve (as per Article 171a of the Banking Law). In 2015, the Bank recognised 40% of unrealised profits and 100% of unrealised valuation losses respectively in the calculation of own funds.

Under Regulation (EU) No. 241/2014 with regard to regulatory technical standards for own funds requirements for institutions and the Polish Financial Supervision Authority's decision of 15 September 2016, the Group recognised the Bank's net profit of PLN 308.5 million for the period from 01 January 2016 to 30 June 2016 in their own funds as at 31 December 2016 and 30 September 2016.

On 23 February 2016, ING Bank Śląski S.A. and ING Bank N.V. with its registered office in Amsterdam entered into a subordinated loan agreement for EUR 150 million. On 19 April 2016, the Polish Financial Supervision Authority approved loan amount recognition under Tier II capital by the Bank.

On 10 October 2016, the Bank received a decision of the Polish Financial Supervision Authority on identification of the Bank as other systemically-important institution and on imposing on the Bank, on a stand-alone and consolidated basis, a buffer of other systemically-important institution equal to 0.50% of the total risk exposure calculated as at 31 December 2015, pursuant to Article 92 section 3 of EU Regulation No. 575/2013.

8. Factors potentially affecting the financial results in the following quarters

The macroeconomic factors that may impact the results in subsequent quarters include:

- In the opinion of the economists from ING Bank Śląski S.A., the GDP growth in Q4 2016 will approximate to 2.0% y/y. This means a slowdown when compared with Q3 2016 (the GDP growth rate totalled 2.5% y/y then) caused by a stoppage of public investment projects co-financed with the EU funds. The rise in private consumption following the pay-out of 500+ benefits was probably lower than expected – according to the consumer surveys, a significant part of households used the received funds either to increase their savings or repay their debt, which is visible in the slowdown of the consumer credits growth.
- As per ING Bank Śląski S.A.'s projections, in 2017, we should expect acceleration of the GDP growth that will average at 3.0% y/y. The progress in signing contracts for the projects co-financed with the EU funds allows us to expect a marked revival of public investments in mid-2017. At the same time, private businesses from certain sectors, like the power sector, declare a rise in their investment plans.
- The economists from ING Bank Śląski S.A. expect that 2017 will see a further intensification of the pay pressure in the domestic economy. Business entities declare growing difficulties in finding employees. The problem may be further reinforced by regulatory changes, such as a relatively high rise in minimum remuneration, introduction of a minimum hour rate, as well as lowering of the pension age. 2017 will be the first year when the 500+ benefits will be paid out in all quarters. In the view of the economists from ING Bank Śląski S.A., this will translate into the accelerated growth rate of consumer spending in 2017, reaching nearly 4% y/y.
- A higher internal demand in Poland, i.e. investment projects and consumption, will most probably lead to a trade balance deterioration. The investment process in Poland tends to be import-intensive and the increase in household disposable income will probably trigger a higher demand for imported durable goods (cars, for example). According to ING Bank Śląski S.A.'s projections, the imports increase will be partly compensated with higher exports, as suggested by better economic effectiveness of Poland's key trade partners.
- In the view of the economists from ING Bank Śląski S.A., CPI inflation in Poland in H1 2017 will exceed the bottom threshold of the National Bank of Poland target (1.5% y/y) due to, among others, a strong rise in fuel prices, whereas average inflation throughout the year will go beyond 2.0% y/y. Despite that, the Monetary Policy Council will in all likelihood not decide to tighten its policy before 2018. The growth in prices is largely dictated by external factors (crude oil prices, for example) that remain beyond the MPC's control. This overlaps with the uncertainty as to the moment of Poland's GDP rebound and changes in the external environment (like the USA's trade policy).

- The risk of Poland's rating downgrade by one of the leading agencies came down: the threat of the banking sector destabilisation abated owing to the Swiss Franc Act. Concerns raised by some international institutions about the National Bank of Poland's independence did not come true; rating agencies assume that a substantial rise in outlays may be covered from the income obtained thanks to better tax collection. However, lowering of the pension age does pose a risk, which refrains the agencies from upgrading their ratings.
- Domestic regulatory landscape remains the cause of uncertainty for the banking sector. The Financial Stability Committee announced introduction of the solutions designed to induce banks to convert FX mortgage loans. In the light of the recent announcements, the risk weight of that class of assets will be maximised (150%) and a minimum LGD level will be put in place. Furthermore, there is a risk of increasing capital requirements through the so-called systemic risk buffer of 3%.

12. Settlements due to disputable cases

ING Bank Śląski maintains detailed records of court cases and other liabilities being legal claims. The Bank establishes reserves for the cases, which in the opinion of the legal staff and/or management staff are encumbered with a high risk of losing the case or it is impossible to recover the lost assets. Possible future settlements are made against the reserves established.

15. Segmentation of revenue and financial results of the Group

15.1. Segments of operation

The management of ING Bank Śląski is conducted within the areas defined in the Bank's business model.

The Bank's business model, above all for the purpose of management reporting, includes division of clients into two main segments:

- retail banking segment,
- corporate banking segment.

The segments are separated based on the financial (especially turnover, level of collected assets) and subject-related criteria. The specific rules of putting clients to respective segments are governed by the clients segmentation criteria specified in the Bank's internal regulations.

ING Bank Śląski S.A. has separated in organisational terms the operations performed by the Bank Treasury. The Bank Treasury manages short-term and long-term liquidity risk in line with the effective regulations and risk appetite internally set at the Bank, manages interest rate risk and invests surpluses obtained from business lines while maintaining the liquidity buffer in the form of liquid assets. The Bank Treasury's net income on operations is allocated to the business lines considering its support function for the Bank's business lines.

15.1.1. Retail banking segment

Within the framework of retail banking, the Bank provides services for individual customers (segments of mass customers and wealthy customers) and for sole traders.

This activity is analysed by the leading products, including i.e.: credit products (overdraft on the savings and settlement account - ROR, loans related to cards, hire purchase loans, housing loans, mortgage loans), deposit products (current accounts, term deposits, savings accounts), structured product, ING fund units, brokerage services and bank cards.

15.1.2. Corporate banking segment

Corporate banking area encompasses as follows:

- providing services to institutional clients,
- Financial Markets products.

Services to institutional clients encompasses strategic clients, large corporate entities and mid-sized companies. For corporate activity, the Bank provides reporting broken down by leading products covering i.e. loan products (working loans, investment loans), deposit products (current accounts, term deposits and negotiated deposits, savings accounts), financial markets products, trust services, capital market operations conducted by the parent and by ING Securities, products related to leasing and factoring services offered by ING Lease (Polska) Sp. z o.o. and ING Commercial Finance Polska S.A.

Financial Markets products encompass operations performed in money and capital markets, conducted both on the proprietary basis as well as for the customers' benefit. Within the framework of this activity, currency, money and derivative instrument market products and securities operations (treasury securities, shares and notes) are specified.

15.1.3. Measurement

The measurement of the segment's assets and liabilities, segment's revenue and costs is based on the accounting standards applied by the Bank, included in notes describing applied accounting standards. In particular, both internal and external interest income and costs for individual segments are determined with the use of the transfer price system within the Risk Transfer System (RTS). Transfer prices are defined based on the yield curve for a given currency that is common for assets and liabilities. The transfer price that is determined for the products being assets and liabilities with the same position on the yield curve is identical. The original transfer price – coming from the product measurement regarding the yield curve can be modified and the factors adjusting the transfer price can be the following: a premium for obtainment of long-term liquidity, matching of the Bank's position, a hedging cost for sophisticated products and the pricing policy. Thereafter, based on quotation rates available at news services, yield curves are developed using mathematical equations. Revenue, costs, results, assets and liabilities for a given segment account for elements that are directly attributable to the segment in question, as well as element that may be attributed to that segment based on reasonable premises. The Bank presents segment's interest income reduced by the cost of the interest. In 12 months 2016, the Bank revised the allocation key for the ALCO's income. The data for previous periods presented herein were made comparable.
